CEREMONIES TO MARK OCCASION

Admiral Evans' Retirement Will Be Celebrated by Fellow Guests at Hotel.

NOTED MEN WILL SPEAK.

FORTY-EIGHT YEARS OF LOYAL SERVICE WILL CONCLUDE, WHEN "FIGHTING BOB" RETIRES FROM NAVY TOMORROW.

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., Aug. 17 .-Forty-eight years of service in the United States navy will be concluded by Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, "Fighting Bob," Tuesday evening. At that time he will retire from the service at the age of 62 years. The adsulting from a wound received at Fort control in his home country. Fisher, forty-three years ago, and which required him to leave the fleet at San Francisco.

The guests of the hotel are planning a celebration befitting the official close of a remarkable naval career. Elaborate exercises have been planned for the occasion, and the guests and the management of the Lake Mohonk House are co-operating to make that event a memorable one. J. Edward Simmons, president of the New York Chamber of Commerce, will preside and deliver an address, and Andrew S. Draper, commissioner of education of the state of New York, on behalf of the guests will present to Admiral Evans a magnificent loving cup, provided by popular subscription. Letters from the president of the United States, many admirals of the navy and other distinguished men will be read. The hotel will be attractively decorated and in the parlor where the exercises will be held will be two flags, one the flag that floated over the Iowa when that vessel, under the command of Admiral Evans, took part in the battle of Santiago; the other the flag of the Connecticut, under which the admiral made the voyage from Hampton Roads to San Francis-

Many Distinguished Names.

A distinguished audience will be present to do honor to the hero of the occasion. Among those already present or expected are: Col. Hugh L. Scott, commandant at Westpoint; Rear Admiral R. R. Ingersoll, Commodore E. C. Benedict, Chief Engineer William L. Bailis, U. S. N.; Robert M. Thompson and Gen, Anson G. Mc-Cook, U. S. A.; Governor Hughes of New York, Paul Morton, formerly secretary of the navy; Frank A. Vanderlip, vice president of the National City bank of New York; the Rev. Dr. Herrick Johnson, formerly of Chicago; Eugene Levering, president of the National bank of Baltimore; E. T. Bell president of the First National bank of Paterson, N. J.; Justice George W. Sleep

Sleep is nature's rebuilding period, when the energy used by the brain, muscles and organs is renewed. If you lose sleep, your system is robbed of the strength sleep should give. Continued loss of sleep multiplies this loss until you become a physical wreck. Dr. Miles' Nervine quiets the irritated nerves and brings refreshing, invigorating sleep. Nervine contains no opiates, and therefor leaves no bad after-effects. "For over two years I suffered untold agonies; my friends thought I was going crazy. I could not sleep nor rest at all. I tried different doctors, but failed to find relief. My head would ache all the time; I was like one drunk; could not concentrate my mind, and was so restless and worried that sleep was out of the question. After taking one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine I felt wonderfully changed. I am now on my third bottle and am gaining all the time. I can lie down and sleep like a child, and am able to do my work."

GRANTING PATENTS.

Mere Mechanical Skill.

A patent cannot properly be granted protecting the product of mere mechanical skill as distinguished from invention. Difficulty is frequently experienced in distinguishing between the two, and the supreme test for determining whether a particular device is the result of mechanical skill is not whether an ordinary mechanic could make the device if it were suggested to him, but whether he would make Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Frazer at- it without suggestions save those which are prompted by his skill and knowledge of his art.

For example, if a man constructs out of iron a machine which had previous-Mr. Mundell, who is in the employ ly been made out of wood he does not thereby become an inventor in a legal EXPERT HORSE SHOER. But this place to Michigan City Saturday suppose that gunpowder had just recently been discovered and that the man who invented it had applied for and obtained a patent upon it.

He might have claimed, "I combine saltpeter, sulphur and charcoal in a certain way and produce a startling result," and it would be no answer, if urday night to join his family, who knowledge as well as the skill, the originating of the powder constituted invention.-Exchange.

DENIED DECREE. COURT

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 17 .- "Such marriages as these profane the most sacred relations of society, and are a scandal and disgrace to the community," said Judge Kennedy in refusing to grant a divorce to Mrs. Julia M. Pratt, wife of Col. J. H. Pratt, widely known western rancher, and rated as a millionaire.

Mrs. Pratt married the colonel four years ago, she being 35 and he 78. In her testimony she admitted she married him because he was wealthy, and that she had no love for him whatever. She charged physical incompetence, habitual drunkenness and failure to provide. Judge Kennedy said Mrs. Kennedy knew her husband's age when she married him, and knew what to expect. He declared the two latter charges had not been proven. Col. Pratt, in replying to the petition, also filed a cross bill for divorce but this was also denied, leaving them in the same relation to each other that they were before the suit was instituted.

The case created a sensation in Omaha society and the court room rious throughout the trial. Mrs. Pratt's daughter by a former husband, a handsome girl of eighteen, was among the witnesses.

THEY WENT TO CHURCH.

A Bit of Strategy That Won For the Minister.

"When Bishop Wilmer was rector of the little Protestant Episcopal church at Upperville, Va.," said a Virginia minister, "he was much worried by the nonattendance at service on Sundays of the majority of the young men of the community. On inquiry he found that instead of going to church they were in the habit of playing marbles for stakes. Marbles in those days, it must be remembered, was a much more serious game than it is now, occupying much the same position in the realm of sports as do billiards and pool in these days.

"Bishop Wilmer, then a 'parson' not well known, determined to break up this practice. He himself had been an Accordingly one Saturday he came fore you died, and now you shall die across a number of the young men en- without the drink.' "Much to their astonishment. young minister won steadily, and soon they had to go to the stores to replenish their stock. Toward the close of the afternoon Mr. Wilmer had won every marble in the town of Upperville. Putting his winnings in a bag, he remarked as he walked away, 'Now, gentlemen, since you can't play marbles tomorrow I hope to see you all at church.' And he did."-New York Tribune.

THE IVORY HUNTER.

Troubles Begin When He Has to Get Ivory Out of the Jungle.

First catch your ivory, then get it home—if you can. A man's troubles have barely begun when the tusks of the fallen monsters are chopped out, wrapped in sacking and taken back to camp. Each weighs 50 or even 100 pounds. I have seen specimens that are on record as tipping the scales at 250 pounds. Suppose I have got together $100,000 worth of fine ivory. I am perhaps a thousand miles from anywhere with this load of 50,000 or 60,000 pounds. There are no railroads, no wheeled vehicles, even no draft animals. The stuff must be carried across the wilds of Africa on the backs of native porters, who think nothing of dropping their loads and deserting if the fancy happens to seize them. The worst of the hunting is nothing to what such a homeward march may mean. I have had my men shot down by hostile tribes from ambush with poisoned arrows. I have seen them die in agony from the bites of noxious insects. I have been attacked by bands of Dinkas, who knew the value of ivory as well as I did and who tried to help themselves to mine.-Everybody's Magazine.

The Too Fat.

Fat hens, being wretched layers, are always sold off by farmers. The early Romans banished all useless persons, including the fat in this category. Ovid, in his "Art of Love," says, "Keep ever slender and supple, for the fat have no success with women." The Gentoo tribe enter their houses by a hole in the roof of a certain prescribed size, and they who grow too bulky to enter by this hole are slain as useless and lazy. In England it was once the law to put the fat to death-"All dronkittis, fatt gluttonis and consumers of vitallis more nor was necessary to the sustentation of men, were tane, and first commandit to swelly their fouth of guhat drink they pleatit, and incontinent tairafter was drounit in ane fresche rever."-New Orleans Times-Democrat.

THE STORY OF A PRIVATE.

With the Beginning of the Fight Comes Fear, but That Soon Passes Away In the Eagerness For Killing. Varying Effects of Wounds.

A narrative of the battle of Solferino as told by a yeteran survivor to Robert Shackleton appears in Harper's. It is, word for word, a chapter of history as seen by a man in the ranks. Incidents which impressed him are curious:

"We halted, and a Tyrolese lying on the ground cried out: 'I am dying Give me to drink.' Whereat my companion stooped to offer him a flask, and as he stooped the Tyrolese struck savagely at him with his bayonet, but my companion jumped back, and it missed him, and he said, 'You Tyroexpert marble player in his boyhood. lese, you said you wanted a drink bestick a pin through a fly.

"The fighting soon began again, and it was very flerce. It was soon that we came to know that we were to capture a little village and the hills about the village. The village was named San Maritino, and there were walled were very strong there. "The bursting of the shells was very

We did not notice, and we did not think that at any moment we too might have our heads blown off or be smashed into little pieces like the breaking of a jug.

"Once, when we rushed over the big guns and killed the men who still fought with us, we turned the guns to fire on the Austrians as they flew away, but they had driven bits of steel into the touchholes, and so we could not fire them. They were of a courage, those Austrians. "Only once in all that battle did I think much of what I saw or heard. and that was when there was the terrible screaming of a captain who had his foot shot off. He twisted and turned as he cried out, and it was a very bad sound. But it is just as it chances. I saw many men who were hurst worse than that captain and many who were blown into little bits, but I did not trouble about them. It is just if it chances so.

"It is very often that a man does not know that he is burt. I remember that once there was a man near me with a great hole in his forehead, but he ran right on with us with his bayonet, and I thought, 'He will fall dead.'
